He/she is in charge of listing the points at the end of battle and may be responsible for timing the battle in Randori or Ju randori team competition.

o Tensu Gakari (Officer notes) : counts and notes the positive and negative points throughout the battle with the help of the Shiai Gakari . It is responsible for filling sheets of notes.

b) Referee's expected behavior:

When the referees gather for a consultation ("Shugo"), they should stand in Shizen Heiko Dachi and flags must be twisted together and held in one hand. The Supervisor (Kanza) and / or the referees must solve the problem raised at the earliest opportunity to quickly continue the fight.

The Fukushin cannot in any way stop the fight and challenge the Sushin and other referees by any means whatsoever (even if Maai). They express themselves through their ratings by flags. They must be able to justify their notes with the Kansa or Sushin if necessary.

c) Referee's place

Each competitor can take the initiative to attack first on each sequence. Then the roles are reversed. Sushin must use the flag of the next Tori between competitors at the beginning of each series of attacks (Waza).

Article 5-5:

At the end of the sequence, after both competitors performed 1-1 correct attack, Sushin separates the two competitors using the two flags.

Sushin says "Hantei" = decision for the best competitor of the sequence.

Each sequence is judged by three Fukushin

All of Fukushin raise the flag Aka or Shiro or 2 crossed flags (Hikiwake = equal). The referees keep their flags in the air until the next sequence starts.

Sushin says "Hajime" = restarts the battle by removing the flags placed in between the competitors.

The Fukushin must raise their flags at the same time after the announcement of "Hantei. The Kansa can make the decision to replace the Fukushin not respecting this rule.

Article 5-6:

At the end of Ju Randori Sushin says "Yame, Surimade, Motonoichi" = Competitors immediately stop all actions and resume their original position, standing face to face.

All flags must be placed downward. Sushin says "Hantei" = Decision by the table.

Shiai Gakari (Announcer) says "Aka X points, Shiro Y points" and raise winner flag or two crossed flags for equal score. Then Fukushin raise winner flag followed by Sushin announcing the result : "Aka or Shiro Nokachi" with on flag or two crossed flags "Hikiwake" for equal score.

- 1. Numbers of negative points (from Fujubun)
- 2. Result of direct fight
- 3. If information does not a tie to be broken, competitors will perform additional attacks (1 tsuki, 1 maegeri, 1 mawashi geri).

Shiai Gakari says "additional attacks 1 tsuki, 1 maegeri, 1 mawashi geri "

In case of a new tie, Fukushin must decide the winner with flags (Aka or Shiro). Fukushin must turned one's back on tatami and raise their flag at the same time after "Hantei". The total flags designate the winner.

Article 5-9 : In case of disqualification or Abandonment

Article 6-3: Criteria for definition of a bad Tori:

- o attack without distance,
- o bad axis or attack error,
- o not precise attack or hesitant; slow, without Kime,

- o Attack too deep (with or without "Suri Ashi")
- o Bad axis
- o Hesitant or no precise attack

Only the Sushin may announce 'Maai'. The Maai is taken into account if the Sushin announces the irregular attack.

In case of Maai, if Uke is unable to develop a proper counterattack, Sushin gives a warning to Tori. He puts the flag of Uke between the two competitors and points the flag of Tori to the table saying "Aka or Shiro Maai, Aka or Shiro Moïchido". Tori must repeat the attack.

The Fukushin should keep in mind this error (that the attack was repeated or not) when announcing the winner of the sequence.

Warning : It's possible to give "Maai" to Tori without to repeat the attack, if Uke develop a correct counter-attack.

In this case Fukushins should keep in mind this error, and evaluate accordingly when decide about the winner of the sequence.

- o the sequence continues if the second competitor has not realized the Uke role or
- o Sushin saying "Hantei" if the sequence of attack is complete. Fukushin will give point to the competitor who did not have "Torimasen"

The Sushin must consult Fukushin if in doubt.

If during the same sequence of attack, both competitors are in the same situation (Aka and Shiro). All of Fukushin give "Torimasen" and cross the flags down for scoring. This means that competitors missed their sequence of attack.

Only Sushin can give a "Torimasen" directly on a technique performed during jurandori.
